A change sends a change to the people, through their association of labor and thought, by means of their development of thought. The suffix of certain words, make their development. Can you explain your argument? Mr. Gattstatt! Are they right? Of course, Mr. Jenkins.