Dear Sir

I have purchased the books you requested me to procure for the Imp. Academy, viz

Philosophical Transactions	—	1791	—	Part 2
		1803	—	2
		1804	—	1
		1814	—	2

& 1815, 1816..... 1828 Complete & Index.

The Bookseller I employed is Mr. Booth, Duke Street, Portland Place, London. — His bill amounts to £ 37 : 10^s : 10^d which I have not paid. This has, I presume been already transmitted to you by the Russian Consul General M. de Benkhansen, who has obligingly offered in the Spring, when the navigation is open, to send the books, which at present are in my possession & are a large package

The best way to pay for them will be for you to write to Mr. Booth (by the above address) enclosing an order to the amount on some London banker, or on M. de Benkhansen, as I shall probably go abroad soon. I will take care the books are duly shipped — I remain dear Sir

Yours Truly
J. F. W. Herschel
