Some thoughts

"Research is going through a revolution."
Prof. Jüri Allik

"Open access publishing is definitely a huge step forward in making the publicly financed research available for everyone."
Prof. Väeli Kalm

"Open access means that the knowledge that has already been financed, either by the country or the EU, is made available to all citizens, who in a sense have already paid for it once."
Docent Pille Prusimann-Vengerfeldt

"Probably most research journals will start using this form of publishing (open access) in a few years."
Prof. Jaak Järvi

Jean-Claude Guédon:

“You are now “young adults”!

Everything that was merely an idea when you started several years ago has become today a reality!

Today it's time to become adults and make the right choices deciding what we really want OpenAIRE to be in the future, technically and policy-wise!

You have the means to do something extraordinarily positive for scholarly communication.”

TÄNÄN!
