House of Lords
14 June 1847

My dear Sir

On my return home this morning from Tunbridge Wells where my wife is staying for the recovery of her health and to which I continued to run down on Saturday - I found your Note and the parcel of books so kindly presented to me by Mr. Arfoison and as kindly forwarded by your Ray add to the great kindness You have shown me in this by conveying to M. Arfvidson my very best thanks for these marks of his consideration and assure him that I propose as the best proof I can give of my sense of his kindness and the interest I feel in promoting increased literary intercourse between Sweden and England to make myself master of the works, and to direct the attention of my Countrymen to the new, and I have no doubt valuable information which is to be found in them.

I have a large packet of books for the Royal Library but am expecting more, and therefore scarcely regret that I should be obliged by the pressure of public business to defer sending them until Parliament is prorogued which will be I expect, ^{tomorrow} month.

Ever with many thanks

Your very truly
William D Thoms

The Rev^d G. W. Carlson.
